April 5. GEO, H. TURNER.

The National Civil Service School, 311 East a pitol Street, Washington, D. C. NSTRUCTION BY CORRESPONDENCE.

Do you wish to enter the government service? If you do we can help you, It is our business to prepare persons for taking the Civil Service Examinations; to tell them what to do and how to do it. Eighty-five thousand one hundred and thirty-eight positions are now filled by the Civil Service Commission, and we prepare people so they can pass the examinations. Have you an ordinary common-school education? If you have we can prepare you for an examination in a short time. We will give you examination until you are prepared, marking your work just as you will be marked by the Civil Service Commission. Our charge is a mere nominal one of $10 and after you are appointed you pay us a commission of 2 percent of your first year's salary. Thus it is to our interest to fit you as soon as possible in order to get our pay in full. By a recent order of the President the number of places to be filled by the Civil Service is increased from $5,736 to $5,138 or by over 52 per cent. All Government employees are now included except fourth-class postmasters and those persons classified as laborers. There never was a better time than the present in which to prepare for a civil service position. There never was a time when as many positions were open to competion as an appresent. We have our students in every Department of the Government. Some are now getting as high as $2,000 per annum. Many are getting $1,200, $1,400, $1,600 and $1,800. We have been engaged in preparing persons for the Civil Service for eleven years and our success is shown by the large number who are now holding lucrative positions because of our assistance. White tollets of the daintiest description will be the rage next season. All shades of blue are fashionable, from the deepest flower-de-luce dyes to the faintest forgetmenot tints, appear among gowns from Paris formed of satin, brocade and crisp corded silks, but in supple taffetas, silk veilings, muslins, nets and crepes de chine. The blouse effect remains on the immedlate front of many bodies, but blouses entire have given place to closely fitted waists with almost seamless backs, deeply curved under arm seams and an effect of a waist very closely fitted. Open mesh or semitransparent fabrics are the materials used in making some of the handsomest and most fashionable gowns for the coming season. Frequently tions of figured instead of patterned silk Half worn silk or satin waists can be very easily and effectively freshened by the addition of a shirred blouse front formed of plain or sequined net and arranged over an underblouse of colored silk or satin.
